

Liberia: Meet Mrs. Annie Kennedy

Mrs. Annie Kennedy

Students reading in class.

At 51, Mrs. Annie Kennedy has seen Liberia in peace, in war, and in recovery. She can tell her students about electricity, running water, garbage trucks, and other amenities they have never seen. She knows that education is the key for her students and teaches to raise “the future leaders of [her] country.” Hoping that one day, they too can experience electricity and running water. And more importantly, that her students can live in a peaceful Liberia.

Annie Kennedy is in her 6th year with All God’s Children. She is thankful for her job. Her salary helps support her family of 6. She shares three rooms in a mat hut with her husband and four children. She loves her family, her work, and God.

She enjoys reading and gospel music, two passions she shares with her students. On a regular day in Annie’s classroom, students read aloud from textbooks. Teaching beginners in Kindergarten and 1st grade, this is no easy task. She carries the textbooks up and down the stairs, everyday, from the library. She truly uses every resource she can possibly find for her students. Her goal is to “help [her] country through All God’s Children” and longs to see “AGC’s dreams come true.”

Prayer Focus

Pray for our staff and students in Liberia, India, and Indonesia, for their health, safety, and future. We join Annie Kennedy in praying that education will raise future, godly leaders and Sukeshini in praying for practical ways to witness faith in these countries. Continue to pray for the container paperwork to come through for Liberia and for funds to build a security wall around Ankoor Children’s Home in India.

India: Sukeshini's Story

Sukeshini Wankhede and her brother Shubham live at the Ankoor Children's Home in Lasina, India. At Ankoor, they have food to eat, go to school, practice valuable trade skills, and learn about Jesus.

The two Wankhede children went home to Karda village over their break. Their family is very poor, living in a small hut. They subsist with odd jobs and their two goats.

One night, the goat took ill, so ill that the family thought to bury it. Sukeshini, following the faith taught to her at Ankoor, went to the goat and prayed to Jesus for hours. The next morning, the goat was well.

Through a small act of faith, Sukeshini witnessed to her entire village the power of Jesus Christ.

Make a Difference

Want to Make a Difference? The children of Liberia, India, and Indonesia need your help. Join us in prayer, sponsor a child, or join a mission team.

“For my house will be called a house of prayer for all nations.” Isaiah 56: 7

Sponsors allow children in Liberia, India, and Indonesia access to education, food, basic medical care, clothing, and spiritual guidance. Through a small act of faith, sponsors stand behind these children, letting them know that someone in the world cares about them. 30 of the 75 children at Ankoor Children's Home in India and hundreds of children at All God's Children Schools in Liberia need sponsors. Will it be you?

Mission teams are forming right now. Groups will be in Indonesia this June and India this October. Any and all skills can be utilized. Contact Serve the Children if you are interested. We have a 16 member team ready to go to Liberia in June.
