Will He find faith on earth? Luke 18:8

Have you ever asked yourself: “Do I really live by faith? Is my faith evident by what I hope for, and certain in what I do not see?” Heb 11:1

Kishor Visava and Vinay Bhosle show their amazing faith by living God’s call. To bring education and Jesus to poor village children in Vyara India, they began the Genesis Charitable Trust (GCT).

GCT now rents a mud and dung building which houses Good Samaritan Schools. This school serves 12 children who receive care and English speaking education. They conduct VBS for village children to share the love of Jesus. These efforts multiply His fruit in the hearts of children who hunger to know Jesus. Their souls are ripe for harvest.

Your “hope and certain faith” brings God’s eternal life to these children and their families. Although you cannot see each child or his/her family, you know God is faithful with your gifts of love. This is how your faith makes a difference in His Kingdom.

“I tell you, he will see that they get justice, and quickly. However, when the Son of Man comes, Will he find faith on the earth?” Luke 18:8

Good Samaritan School

Children can break India’s caste system by learning English, reading, and math.

Children in Vyara learn about Jesus at VBS.

THINGS HOPED FOR!

This raw piece of land looks vacant to a casual observer. Yet, through your generosity, this property now belongs to GCT and is the future home for a new school. The beauty of “things hoped for” is the evidence of the unseen school – visualized through faith. Accordingly, the faith of Kishor and Vinay shouts God’s call to reach His children. Through your continuing partnership and generous donations, this land and the future school will bring countless children and their families to Christ.

Can you envision the new Good Samaritan School filled with children; growing rich in God’s love?

Founders of Genesis Charitable Trust

Kisor and Vinay were once village children themselves, born into the poor caste system of India. With God’s provisions and their hard work, they have earned University Degrees in Theology and Ministry.

Will He find faith on earth? Luke 18:8

It is amazing God can see each of us individually, yet, all as one. It does not matter if I live in America, Liberia, or India. I am God's precious child, living His faith. Miraculously, we are all one, in His kingdom.

Children receive God's love in India

Thank you for your partnership with us, especially in difficult economic times. Children like Aishwarya and David cherish your prayers & support. By faith, you are helping change the lives of children and their families in India and Liberia. To sponsor a child, contact Serve The Children.

Aishwarya Mane

Aishwarya became an orphan when her father was killed and she was abandoned by her mother. Her grandparents are poor and unable to care for Aishwarya and her two elder sisters. She is both filled with joy and mischievous. She is good in school and enjoys memorizing Bible verses and new choruses. Aishwarya and her two sisters live at the Ankoor Home.

David Shiwankar

David comes from a poor family and is calm and quiet.

His parents worked as agricultural laborers. David and his family once lived in a small hut in the forest but now live in the village. David's family is separated due to poverty. His family belongs to Kolam tribe, who are mainly evil spirit worshippers. Now, David lives in the Ankoor Home with his older sister and younger brother. He is good in memorizing Bible verses and songs. He excels in academics and cricket.
